The Court of Appeals on Thursday affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Wm. Neal, the last of the Ashland murderers, and he will have to hang.

Some enthusiastic ratifier with vandalistic tendencies gave vent to his feelings Saturday night by painting the doors of the Post-office red, or at least smearing red paint upon them.

The W. C. T. U. now meets at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, instead of 4 o'clock, as heretofore.

The Band of Hope will meet at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the lecture-room of the Christian Church.

It is sad and surprising that any Christian woman can fall in her duty to ally herself to the W. C. T. U. She can give her money and the influence of her presence, when possible to the meetings of the vicinity.

Is not many months since Mr. Gladstone alluded to the remarkable fact that England was to be congratulated upon a decrease in her revenue, since that decrease represented a lessened sum expended for whisky.

If all the church property in the United States was sold at the best market prices it is estimated that the entire cash proceeds would be only one-third of the sum spent by the people of this country for intoxicating drinks in a single year.

If tobacco is dangerous and opium is deadly, what shall be said of the destructiveness of the cigarette, into the vile composition of which the weed and the drug both enter? The cigarette smoker becomes doubly a slave, for he has to fight against the benumbing effects of two narcotics.

It is said that the passengers of the steamer Anserford, wrecked off Table Island some time since, had to face the combined perils of whisky and water. Certain of the crew and passengers, and even of the people on shore, obtained access to the liquor in the ship stores and confusion, misconduct, inhumanity were the results.

Surely no beverage which (according to God's holy word) contains in itself a "serpent" and a "viper" can strictly and honestly be called innocent. It may not overcome everyone who tampers with it, but the very fact that it contains these endangering qualities and that it has slain its millions upon millions for time and eternity should put it under ban.

It is stated that France is compelled to import wines for home consumption, that makes no difference in the exports of wine from France to the United States and the inference is that if France should cease to export wine entirely, French brands of the sparkling beverage would be quite as plentiful as when the product was at its height. It is the bottle and the label which makes the French wines nowadays.—Chronicle at Work.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 15, 1884.

Thanksgiving turkey will be next in order.

The Democracy of this city and county had another big jollification Saturday night over the Presidential election. A large number of houses were illuminated, a torch light procession paraded the streets, cannon and fire works were fired off, and every unfettered Democrat lifted up his voice and yelled until he was hoarse.

Thos. Crittenden, who is under indictment for killing a negro man at Anchorage a year or more ago, has obtained a change of venue from the Jefferson Circuit Court to Spencer county. The case was called Tuesday before Judge DeHaven, at Taylorsville, and continued until next May. In the meantime Crittenden will remain in jail in Louisville.

We seem never to be without an election on hand, with its attendant yowling and "fixing things." So far this year we have had the Democratic primary for Sheriff, the August and November elections, and next comes the city election, on the 6th of December, for Councilmen, then on the first Saturday in January we are to elect a Board of School Trustees. After that we suppose another primary will be ordered, so as to keep up the fun.

Mr. Jas. W. Blackburn, son of late Secretary of State James Blackburn, and Miss Hallie, youngest daughter of Judge G. W. Chadcock, were married at the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, in the presence of a large company of friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. C. Kelly, assisted by Rev. Geo. Darsie. After a supper at the residence of the bride's parents, the young couple left on the C. & O. train for Washington City, where the groom is an employee in one of the Departments.

Col. Robert W. Scott, an old and highly respected citizen of this county, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Col. S. I. M. Major, in this city, last Sunday afternoon at half past 2 o'clock, aged 76. He was a public spirited citizen, taking foremost position in agricultural, political, religious and educational interests. Polished and courtly in his manners, treating all, from the highest to the lowliest, with marked deference, he held the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. In early life he studied law, but failing health compelled him to abandon the practice of it, when he purchased a farm near Jett's Station, in this county, and turned his attention to raising fine stock. He soon became one of the leading breeders of this county, which position he held to the day of his death.

His funeral took place on Tuesday and was largely attended.

Monday afternoon the stable, corn crib and slaughter-house of Mr. Walker Stephens and several outbuildings on the place formerly owned by him, but now the property of the Merriweather heirs, about two miles from the city on the Louisville pike, were destroyed by fire. There was but little water on the place, and it was with great difficulty that the old Stephens residence, now occupied by Mr. H. S. Banta, could be saved from the flames. Mr. Stephens had two horses in the stable at the time, which were burned up, together with a lot of farming implements, and his loss is about $1,500, with no insurance. The Merriweather heirs' loss is about $1,000, with $800 insurance. Mr. L. S. Roberts, who lives on the place, had a portion of his crop stored in one of the buildings which was burned and it was a total loss. Mr. H. S. Banta's furniture was badly damaged in getting it out of the house, but is insured. He also lost $300 worth of horse feed. Mr. Roberts' fattening hogs were in a pen near the stable and came near being burned, but his wife succeeded in getting them away in time to save them.

Some little hogs were firing off a lot of fire crackers near the stable a little time before, and it is supposed that it was set fire to by a lighted portion of a cracker falling into the straw.

Hon. George Wright, a gentleman well known in this city, having represented his district several times in the Senate, died at his home near Smith's Grove, in Warren county, on Sunday.

Gen. D. W. Lindsey has had the old two-story frame building at the south end of the St. Clair street bridge torn away. It is an old timer and was in a tumble-down condition for some time.

We would call the attention of our farmer readers to our tobacco market report in another column. We have made arrangements to receive them every week, and they will always give the latest quotations.

The enterprising Democrats of this city are determined to be in time with their applications for office. Several are out securing signatures to petitions to have themselves appointed Post Master. Dr. Hatchitt's shoes seem to be in demand.

The many friends in this city of Miss Briggs, who is being treated for cancer in Providence, Rhode Island, will be very glad to learn that she is doing well under the treatment and her ultimate restoration to health is confidently expected.

The celebrated trotting mare, Maud S., trotted at Lexington on Wednesday to beat her record, which was 2:09, and lowered it one-half second, trotting the mile with comparative ease in 2:09. An audience of about three thousand people witnessed the performance.

Mr. A. W. Caldwell, foreman for Mr. John T. Buckley, while engaged in putting in a pump for Mr. R. D. Armstrong, near Bridgeport, Thursday morning, had his left hand mashed in a horrible manner. Dr. Geo. W. Chinn bound up the wound, accompanied him to town and dressed it. At last accounts he was doing well.

During the Democratic jollification at Midway Wednesday night a negro man by the name of Abe Mukes was shot by a white man by the name of Jack Coger, and the buggy of Mr. James Dennis was overturned, throwing him out on his head and breaking his neck. It was better that Midway should not get so happy.

Rev. H. K. Kavanaugh, who has been confined to the house for several weeks, is able to be out again.

Mr. Lee Herrmann, formerly of the Arcade in this city, was in the city Thursday on his way to New York, where he expects to reside in future.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey, of Henry county, who have been visiting friends in this county and Woodford, the past week, returned home Tuesday.

MARRIED.

October 29th, 1884, by Rev. G. C. Kelly, ANDREW CORBON and Miss Kate E. FICKE.

In this city on Thursday evening, by Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis, Mr. Wm. Johnson and Miss Maggie Witherspoon.

DIED.

At 2 o'clock, P. M., Sunday, November 9th, at the residence of Col. S. I. M. Major, in this city, Rona W. Scott, aged seventy-six years and seven days.

In this city, on Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, Mr. J. H. Smith, aged eighty-eight years and eleven days.

In his death an old and highly esteemed citizen of this city and county has passed away. For a number of years he was connected with Mr. E. H. Sedman in the manufacture of paper at Sedmanstown, and was upright and honorable in all his dealings. For a short time he was agent of the L. & E. Railroad in this city, but the last years of his life have been free from business care, and have been spent with his son in this city.
